THE POOR ALSO GIVE THANKS.

Again we give These heartfelt thanks, dear Lord!
Nought else in gratitude can we afford To offer up today. We have not much Of anything to make show of, excepting such As fortitude privation to endure!
We thank Thee, Lord, for that we still are poor!
If we were rich, perhaps, we ne'er had thought Of giving thanks! Perchance we would have sought The path of pleasure and the place that kills,
But we are still alive, and gladness fills Our hearts. In poverty we rest secure!
We thank Thee, Lord, for that we still are poor!

JOHN D. NUSSBAUM.

REV. J. R. SEVIER ACCEPTS CALL.

At a meeting of the session of the Second Presbyterian Church on Tuesday night, Rev. J. R. Sevier handed in his resignation as pastor of that church, to take effect January 1, 1911. He has accepted the call recently sent him from the First Presbyterian Church at Augusta, Ga. Mr. Sevier has been pastor of the Second Church in this city nearly four years, during which time he has become acquainted with a majority of Alexandrians, among whom he is deservedly popular, and many outside his congregation will unite with them in expressions of regret when it is known that he has concluded to leave this city.

During Mr. Sevier's pastorate he has preached in almost every church in the Presbytery, and held meetings in many of them.

The work in Augusta, a city of from 40,000 to 60,000, offers so many larger opportunities he feels it would be wrong to refuse to go. The First church is perhaps the most influential church in Atlanta. It has a membership of about 700. The church is an old fashioned building with a seating capacity of 1,100 people; has a splendid organ and a quartette choir. The street cars run a special car from the tourist hotels to the church during the winter to accommodate the tourists. They have a separate Sunday school building costing $42,000, capable of taking care of 600 scholars, with most of the classes in separate rooms. The church and Sunday school building occupy a whole city square, which is planted in trees and grass.

The church is one of the leading ones of the Presbyterian denomination in the south.

Mr. Sevier is loth to leave Alexandria, and he has reached his decision after one of the hardest struggles of his life, the severance of his pastoral relations with the people of the Second Church and leaving his many other friends and acquaintances in this city being uppermost in his thoughts.

LECTURE LAST NIGHT.

Rev. Jas. H. Taylor, pastor of the Central Presbyterian Church, of Washington, gave a most delightful lecture on Labrador last night in the Second Presbyterian Church, of this city. The stereopticon pictures were clear and many of them beautifully colored. Dr. Taylor told of his trip to the land of perpetual ice and snow, and of the people who live there. Especially beautiful were the slides of giant icebergs which his ship passed in his trip "down north." A large audience heard Mr. Taylor.

PLEA FOR VIRGINIA'S BIRDS.

The general sessions of the Virginia Educational Conference began in Richmond yesterday morning. Prof. A. B. Chandler, of Richmond, presided. Dr. J. L. Jarman, of the Virginia State Normal School, addressed the conference, and he was followed by Miss Julie Richmond, district superintendent of public schools in New York city. Miss Katherine Stuart, of Alexandria, made a strong appeal for bird conservation in Virginia, saying that the camera is better than the gun, and denouncing the vanity which causes women to decorate their hats with bird's plumage. About 2,000 educators are here.

CONCERT.

One of the features of the concert to be given next Tuesday evening by the choir of St. Paul's Church will be the choruses. The excellent chorale work by this choir is well known and they have been industriously rehearsing for several weeks. They will sing "The Dawn of Day," by Remy; "The Happy Pearls," by Schumann; "The Maiden of Fleury de Lys," by Sydenham; "There is a Dew for every Flower," by Gual; "Among the Lilies," by Zibulka; "Little Jack Horner," Caldicott, closing with the Damascus march from "Naaman" by Costa.

A GREAT SHOW.

The large audience that filled the Opera House this afternoon was highly pleased with the opening performance. The way the child animal trainer handled the wild beasts was marvelous. In addition to this there was another great feature in Fred Morton, the trick paper manipulator and accordion player; also Jack Oliver, the first class comedian. The programme will be repeated tonight.

STRUCK BY AN AUTOMOBILE.

Mr. Donald Aitchison, assistant postmaster, was struck by an automobile and knocked down on King street, near St. Asaph, early this afternoon, but escaped with a cut on one of his hands and some minor bruises. The automobile, which contained Washingtonians, stopped, but when it was seen that Mr. Aitchison was not seriously injured, it proceeded on its way. Mr. Aitchison went to Taylor's drug store where he received attention.

The iron to be used in the alterations at the city jail has arrived.

THAN KSGIVING DAY.

The morning dawned bright and mild, the weather resembling that of Indian summer and not what the weather bureau had predicted. The day is a legal holiday, but there was no general suspension of business here. The government, state and city offices and banks were closed, the postoffice observed Sunday hours, the schools were given holiday and after the morning hours many of the stores closed. There have been many family reunions and many Alexandrians who now live outside the city, returned to eat their Thanksgiving dinner. The day has been a quiet one, the holiday being mainly given over to social enjoyment. As usual, many Alexandrians attended the theatres in Washington, while others spent the day in the country. Services were held in the several Episcopal and Catholic churches, while union services of the other Protestant denominations were held at the M. P. Church at which Rev. W. F. Watson, of the First Baptist Church, preached the sermon. The church services were not very largely attended. This was donation day at the Alexandria Hospital and many donations were sent to that worthy institution.

ELECTION OF A POLICEMAN.

A called meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners was held last night in the auditor's office. Acting Mayor Marbury presided and Commissioners Barrett, Fisher, Ocheltree and Bryan were present.

The acting mayor stated that the meeting had been called for the purpose of electing a member of the police force to fill a vacancy occasioned by the death of James F. Webster, formerly chief of the force.

The applications of Arthur E. Sisson, C. R. Acton, J. W. Kerns, Walker Campbell, Robert Hohenstein, Henry F. Burke, Walter T. Cline, Edward Deahl, Edward J. Harrison and James T. Sillicke were read.

After several of the candidates had appeared before the board and been examined as to their qualifications, a vote was taken and Walker Campbell was declared to be the choice of the board, he having received a unanimous vote. He was subsequently called into the room when Acting Mayor Marbury explained the nature of his duties, and directed him to his bond with the auditor and report for duty at once.

The newly-elected officer was formerly a railroad man, but of late has been employed at the Alexandria Glass Works.

Henry F. Burke, who had been a candidate for policeman lately, formally withdrew his application for the position.

ALLEGED IMPOSER.

Peter Oscar Jepson, who went to Washington with a tale of having been shanghaied in Boston, kept a prisoner on fishing boats, and after three months of suffering, left stranded at Colonial Beach, has disappeared from the home of his benefactor in Washington. G. W. Sellers, who took the youth in when he told him of his trouble, has since learned that Jepson had given him his fictitious information concerning his Boston relatives.

Mr. W. W. Winchester, a sister of Peter Oscar Jepson, the 17-year-old youth who told the authorities in Washington that he had been shanghaied on a Boston vessel, stated in Boston yesterday that she places no credence in her brother's story. Jepson said that his father lived at 15 Norway street; but Mrs. Winchester, who resides at that place, told the local police yesterday that her father lives in Germany. Jepson made his home with his sister until last June. Since that time he has been wandering about the country.

MONEY TURNED OVER.

The managers of the entertainment given in this city on January 14, 1909, to aid in improving the grounds of Lee School building, today turned over to Capt. Herbert Bryant, chairman of the City School Board, a check for $215.39, being the amount realized by the entertainment with accrued interest thereon to date. This sum will at once be applied to the object for which the entertainment was held.

LECTURE.

The committee in charge of the lecture, to be given by Rev. Father Handley, C. S. C., of Washington Friday evening, under the auspices of the Daughters of Isabella, are endeavoring to make it a rare treat to all who may attend. Father Handley being a true southerner, is very pleasing to all southern people. The musical programme, prepared by Mrs. Jacob Brill, will be up to the standard.

CITY TAX SALE.

As will be seen by a notice elsewhere in the Gazette the biennial sale of property delinquent for city taxes will be held on Tuesday, December 6, in front of the Market building, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m. The list this year is very small and is for property delinquent to June 1, 1910. There are but 45 pieces advertised for sale as follows: First ward, 5; Second, 7; Third, 19 and Fourth, 14. This is most excellent and shows how well City Collector Gorman has performed his duty.

To Issue Catechism.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 24.—In connection with the State Anti-Tuberculosis Association, the state health department is preparing a catechism on tuberculosis which will be issued December 15, for use in the public schools. This catechism will contain accurate information regarding the methods by which tuberculosis is spread, and will be scattered broadcast throughout the state. The first edition will be 100,000 copies, and arrangements will be made by which a second edition can be printed at once, if needed. The catechism will be issued in the midst of the Red Cross Christmas seal sale and is expected to greatly aid the campaign for raising funds with which to combat tuberculosis.

COMMUNICATED.

Those who bunch Jim Jeffries, the Chicago Cub and Theodore Roosevelt omit important differences. Jeffries will never come back, the Cubs may come back and Roosevelt, thank you at present, with his gloves on, is feeling very fit.

PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Clements announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Josephine Sarah, to Mr. James Bernard Horgan, on Wednesday, November twenty-third, in Washington.

Mrs. M. M. Lewis is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with relatives in this city.

Miss Emma Thom, of Sandy Springs, Md., is the guest of Mrs. John Leadbeater.

Mrs. R. P. Holt, of Newport News, is spending Thanksgiving with her parents, Col. and Mrs. Arthur Herbert.

Miss Hundley, of St. Andrews Hospital, Lynchburg, is visiting in this city.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. Samuel Devaughn, living at 417 south Washington street, furnished a Thanksgiving Day dinner to some one today. His premises were invaded last night and six chickens stolen.

At the meeting last night of Fitzgerald Council, Knights of Columbus, at St. Mary's Hall, officers were nominated and the first degree was conferred upon several candidates.

Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows held a called meeting last night at which arrangements were made for a fraternal visit Friday night of Prince William Lodge. The degree team will confer the first, second and third degrees of the order on a class of candidates from Manassas.

There were three cases before the Police Court this morning. Two white men, charged with being drunk on the streets, were brought to the bar. One was sent to the workhouse for sixty days and the other for thirty. A colored woman, who was charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Friend, if you want to make a success in life just follow our advice. In life's great "marathon" the man who wins the medal is the one who sticks to a steady gait, looks straight ahead and lets the rest of the racers take care of themselves. Remember there are lots of competitors in the road to success and if you want to "make good" and "get there" with the winners you have got to be in condition. That means you have got to come to Blumheim's Auto Stand or Market for those irresistibly delicious Auto Sausages, Puddings and Food Products.

COURT OF APPEALS.

It seems doubtful if there will be any opinions at all from the Court of Appeals this week. The court may decide to hand down a few decisions tomorrow morning, or it may defer all action on cases before it until Thursday of next week, the next opinion day.

Thanksgiving Day was observed by the court, which adjourned at 1:30 o'clock yesterday to tomorrow morning. It will probably sit on Saturday.

Following were yesterday's proceedings:

H. S. Watkins & Co. et als. vs. Camp Manufacturing Company; dismissed.

Mercer vs. South Atlanta Life Insurance Company; argued and submitted.

County of Mecklenburg, by et al., vs. Beales et al.; partly argued and continued to Friday.

Next cases to be called: City of Richmond vs. Model Steam Laundry; Aspregen & Company vs. Wallenstein Produce Company; Richardson vs. The J. S. Hoskins Lumber Company; Lambert vs. Jenkins; Talley vs. Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; Southern Railway Company vs. Satterfield's administratrix, and Reid's administrator vs. Windsor et als., being Nos. 15 to 21 on the argument docket.

When He Spat, They Had Him.

Boston, Nov. 24.—Professor Percival Lowell, a noted astronomer, and Max Brasel, his butler, disagreed yesterday, and the latter was put out of the Lowells' home bag and baggage after a disturbance which aroused the whole neighborhood. The police were called and were in doubt on what charge to arrest Brasel until they saw him spit on the sidewalk. He spent last night in jail, and today paid a fine of $2 for his expectation.

Fire on a Steamer.

Norfolk, Nov. 24.—The Austrian steamer Giulia, bound for Trieste from New Orleans, put in here today with fire in two holds which the crew has been fighting for four days. The fire is among cotton and staves. Steam was turned into the holds in the hope of saving a portion of the cargo which is large and valuable. After twenty-four hours the hatches will be opened and, if necessary, the ship will be flooded. The origin of the fire is unknown.

MUTINY IN BRAZILIAN FLEET

Mutinous Crews Said to Have Bombarded Rio de Janeiro.

London, Nov. 24.—Confirmatory dispatches regarding a reported mutiny on one or more of the Brazilian warships in Rio de Janeiro harbor have not, however, been received here, but there is ground for belief that the mutiny occurred on the newly delivered battleship Minas Geraes, a dreadnought built in England. A private dispatch published today by Reuters's News Agency declares the crew of the Minas Geraes mutinied and killed the captain of the vessel.

The Brazilian legation declares the mutiny was not in the nature of a political uprising, but was occasioned by the dissatisfaction of the crew over its wages.

The first news of the outbreak was received at Barrow, where friends of the fifty English engineers who took the ships to Brazil, were simply notified that there had been a mutiny, but that the Englishmen were all saved. No details were given.

Some sources declare the mutinous crew has bombarded Rio de Janeiro and that business there is at a standstill. Still other messages declare the government is temporizing with the mutineers and that a truce has been established. There is no confirmation to either of these messages.

The battleships Sao Paulo and Minas Geraes, both modern dreadnoughts, were built in England for Brazil. They were in Lisbon at the time of the Portuguese uprising, the newly elected Brazilian President Marshal Nemes Fonseca being on board one of them. It was these foreign warships which first offered a refuge to Manuel and his mother.

London, Nov. 24.—The Brazilian minister today received word from Rio de Janeiro that three officers were killed in yesterday's mutiny aboard the warship Minas Geraes. The other officers of the ship were ashore, according to today's cables, and escaped injury.

Washington, Nov. 24.—All of the Brazilian warships in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro have fallen into the hands of the mutiny sailors of the Brazilian navy, according to a dispatch received at the State Department today from Joseph J. Scheetz, American consul general at that port. The dispatch is brief and does not name the vessels which have been taken by the sailors, but is believed that several ships have been captured by the mutineers.

Rio de Janeiro, charge of the Brazilian embassy, although without reports from Buenos Aires, today scouted the idea that the reported mutiny on one or more Brazilian battleships had any political significance. "There has been nothing whatever to indicate any political unrest in Brazil," he said. "If the report of disturbances are well founded, they are probably confined to the mutiny of the sailors against the officers. The only possible explanation of the disturbance known here is the dissatisfaction of the men with conditions aboard the new battleships, the Minas Geraes and Sao Paulo. These are the first big battleships of the Brazilian navy which is being reorganized and friction may have developed because of the failure of the officers and men to adjust themselves to the new condition."

Big Buck Goes Hunter.

Pittsfield, Mass., Nov. 24.—A big buck charged Ralph Gardner, of Lanesboro, a deer hunter, yesterday morning in New Ashford, and inflicted serious injuries. Gardner was separated from other hunters and found the buck and three does in close quarters. As the buck charged, the hunter fired the twice, but missed both times. He was knocked unconscious. The buck and does escaped. Hunters, bearing the shots, hurried to Gardner, who had to be taken to his home. His ribs are broken and he is badly bruised.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.
